

The Dancing Goat

folktale
English

One day, a goat went out in the bush, and wandered around happily. But then she got lost!

Suddenly, she met a wolf! The wolf came up to her, and he looked very hungry.

The goat said: Mr. Wolf, I know you want to eat me. But I would like to die happy!

The wolf asked the goat: What do you mean? Die happy?
How?

The goat answered: If I have to die, I would like to die dancing!

Then the wolf took his guitar. He sat down and started playing it.

And the goat started dancing, though she was still a little bit worried.

Near that place, there were dogs. They came to see what was happening.

Now that wolf was afraid of dogs. So he turned and ran away!

And the goat kept on dancing, because now she was free from the wolf!

The Dancing Goat

Writer: folktale

Illustration: José Nhambo

Language: English

© Mozambican Writers

This work is licensed under a Creative Commons Attribution
(CC-BY) Version 3.0 Unported Licence

Disclaimer: You are free to download, copy, translate or adapt this story and use the illustrations as long as you attribute or credit the original author/s and illustrator/s.

This story was written down in 2013
by students at Universidade Pedagógica-Maxixe, Mozambique, and edited by their English teacher, Ingrid Schechter. It may be of Portuguese origin.

Saide
South African Institute for Distance Education

www.africanstorybook.org
A Saide Initiative